

STONEHAUS MANAGEMENT TEAM BIOS

Robert Hauser

President and Chief Executive Officer

Bob is a graduate of The College of William and Mary with a Bachelor of Business Administration. He has lived and worked in the Charlottesville area for more than 25 years after beginning his real estate career in Northern Virginia. Through a keen understanding of the real estate market, Bob has become a prominent fixture in the Charlottesville builder and real estate development community. He lives in Albemarle County with his wife and family.

Cass Kawecki

Director of Sales and Marketing

Cass is a licensed real estate salesperson and has a Master of Architecture degree from the University of Virginia and an MBA from Carnegie Mellon. Prior to joining Stonehaus he was the VP and Director of Operations for the Pittsburgh Investment Property Sales group of CB Richard Ellis, the world's largest real estate services firm. Cass has closed over $150 million in property sales including dispositions of office, retail, condo-conversion, and multi-family property. In addition, he has managed complex urban development projects with an emphasis on mixed-use and sustainable design. He recently served as a distinguished faculty and taught the first graduate level, university-wide real estate course at Carnegie Mellon. Cass is an active member of the Dean's Forum at the UVA School of Architecture. Cass is engaged and lives in Charlottesville.

Chris Schooley

Director of Development

Chris holds a Bachelor of Landscape Architecture from Virginia Tech and a Master of Environmental and Urban Planning from the University of Virginia. His portfolio of work includes a number of residential and multi-use developments with specific attention paid to development and design of their amenity packages. Chris manages land development projects for Stonehaus, and works closely with builders and design professionals to develop the architectural and site details that make unique rural and infill development communities. He lives in Augusta County with his wife and son.